Re OSGOODE HALL LAW SCHOOL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CENTRE
CLE CONTRIBUTION AWARD

We are pleased to announce that our colleague, Bob Keel, recently received the Osgoode Hall Law School Professional Development Centre Award in recognition of outstanding contribution to the Osgoode Continuing Legal Education Programs.

As you may recall, there are three significant programs offered by the Osgoode Hall Law School Professional Development Centre annually relating to Education Law:

- Critical and Emerging Issues in School Law for K-12 Education Professionals
- Advanced Issues in Special Education Law
- Legal Guide to Human Resource Issues in K-12 Education.

Bob was instrumental in the design and continues to be involved in the delivery of these programs.

From the Firm perspective, Bob has arranged for other members of the Firm to assume responsibility for specific programs or parts of programs. Jennifer Trépanier has assumed responsibility for the Legal Guide to Human Resource Issues program. Nicola Simmons and Kimberley Ishmael contribute to the Critical and Emerging Issues in School Law for K-12 Education Professionals program, as well as the Advanced Issues in Special Education Law program.

We consider the work done by members of the Firm on these programs as well as other programs and sessions to be part of our contribution to the community, including the Education sector.

Members of the Firm are also active in providing sessions to the legal profession through the Ontario Bar Association.

Our congratulations to Bob with respect to this Award, and our thanks to all members of the Firm who participate in all Continuing Legal Education.

We look forward to continuing to work with you.

Kindest regards.

George
